

Strategies for Collaborative Conservation in North American Grasslands

Session Objectives

- Learn about regional strategies for landscape-scale conservation/restoration in North American grasslands
- Communicate priority restoration issues among grassland regions to facilitate cross-regional collaboration
- Discuss opportunities to scale up grassland conservation and restoration in North American grasslands

Ariel Léger - Conservation &
Adaptation
Resources Toolbox
(CART)
(They/Them)

Julia Guglielmo -
Altar Valley
Conservation
Alliance

(She/Her)

Scott Feldhausen -
Bureau of Land Management
(He/Him)

Robert Perez –
Oaks and Prairies
Joint Venture
(He/Him)

Overcoming Challenges

This is a two-part question:

What techniques are you using in your geography to overcome priority challenges on-the-ground and how does your strategy help inform these techniques?

Communication

What aspects of your grasslands conservation work feel especially important to communicate, and to who?

Reflection

Take a moment to think about what's resonating and what questions you still have, we'll have a chance to discuss these at the end.

Partnerships

Give an example of a time where working with partners has allowed you to overcome priority challenges?

Scaling up

Give an example of how your work scaled up over the past years and what are next steps to scaling the work you do?

Discussion

